To Whom It May Concern:

You are infringing on my rights it should be up to the person whether they want to smoke or not. OSHA has been around for a long time. But smoking has been around longer. I am a smoker and I resent anyone coming along and telling me what I cannot do, smoking or whatever. I work as a cash coder in a community hospital, and OSHA oversees the safety of my work environment. Fine. That's what you are supposed to do. Now don't turn your inspectors into a smoking patrol.

I am particularly offended by the idea that the ban may extend into people's homes. This is an infringement on our rights. A person should be allowed to decide for himself whether to smoke or not.

Yours faithfully,

Esther Fall

I would like to add I have not missed one second of work in 3 1/2 yrs - I am 62 yrs. old - don't say smokers are more apt to miss work please!
